

Civil War

- A. Identify—Briefly explain what these terms are and why they are important.
- Martial law
 - Conscription
 - Habeas corpus*
 - Attrition
 - Siege
- B. Map Skills—Analyze the map on page 231. Then, answer the following questions:
- Which slave states remained in the Union after the Fort Sumter attack?
 - Which states did not secede until after the Fort Sumter attack?
- C. Chart Skills—Analyze the charts on page 214. Then, answer the following questions in complete sentences:
- How did the battle-related deaths compare to non-battle deaths?
 - What do these graphs tell you about conditions on and off the battlefield in both the North and South?
- D. Descriptive Writing—Answer the following prompt in at least 2 full paragraphs:
- Imagine that you are living in one of the border states at the beginning of the Civil War. Write a letter to a relative explaining why you plan to join either the Union or Confederate army. Include in your letter specific reasons for your decision. Also discuss any fears you might have about fighting the war.

Civil War

- A. Identify—Briefly explain what these terms are and why they are important.
- Martial law
 - Conscription
 - Habeas corpus*
 - Attrition
 - Siege
- B. Map Skills—Analyze the map on page 231. Then, answer the following questions:
- Which slave states remained in the Union after the Fort Sumter attack?
 - Which states did not secede until after the Fort Sumter attack?
- C. Chart Skills—Analyze the charts on page 214. Then, answer the following questions in complete sentences:
- How did the battle-related deaths compare to non-battle deaths?
 - What do these graphs tell you about conditions on and off the battlefield in both the North and South?
- D. Descriptive Writing—Answer the following prompt in at least 2 full paragraphs:
- Imagine that you are living in one of the border states at the beginning of the Civil War. Write a letter to a relative explaining why you plan to join either the Union or Confederate army. Include in your letter specific reasons for your decision. Also discuss any fears you might have about fighting the war.